SEMINAR REGARDING LEGAL CERTAINTY FOR MINE BUSSINESS AFTER THE ENACTMENT OF LAW No. 4 YEAR 2009

Jakarta, Indonesia
13 July 2009

Presented by: Daud Silalahi & Lawencon Associates

A. Background

Mine industry has been giving a significant contribution in Indonesian economic development, it has opened daerah tertinggal and absorb local workers.

In the year of 2004, mine industry had contributed 2,8 % of the total of Indonesian GNP, which also contributed in absorbing 35,000 workers. However, mine industry also presenting pros and cons related to issues such as environmental management, protection on traditional communities (particularly on hak ulayat) and state income.

By the end of 2008, government and house of representatives have approved the bill of new mining law, so called as Law No. 4 Year of 2009 ("mining law"). The issues are arising due transitional provision (article 169) which regulates that the existing contract of work and Coal Mining Exploitation Working Arrangement have to adjust with this Law by not later than 1 (one) year after the enactment of new mining law. This provision leaves questions regarding legal certainty to mining industry's actors, legal substances of adjustment in the contract shall be made between parties.
